

An Invitation to use the Mt. Pleasant Library

It has been a while since an article has appeared about the Mt. Pleasant Library so there may be some members who are not aware that we have one. Visit and get acquainted! Our church library is in the center of the lower level in a quiet alcove. Beautiful shelves made by a former member are filled with many interesting books on a variety of subjects. Tables and chairs provide for your comfort while browsing. When you find a book of interest you are welcome to sample it in comfort or check it out to read at home. We use the honor system; just sign and date the card in the pocket of the inside cover and leave it in the tray provided so that we know who has the book. Please limit yourself to no longer than three weeks.

Providing books with a religious theme is our primary purpose. These include novels and short stories and books of prayers and meditation, but we also have a large collection of Bible Study aides such as commentaries, Bible dictionaries and other references. Church history, music, liturgy and symbolism are also represented.

Children will find books of interest that are informative, funny or inspiring. Parents can find read-along materials as well - a wonderful opportunity to cuddle while sharing faith and improving reading skills. Bring your child with you as you browse. There is no limit to the number of books you may take.

Donations to our library are always welcome. There is a basket on the library desk for any donations. Leave your name so we can acknowledge you. Please understand that we don't have space for everything. Non-religious books or duplicates may be sent elsewhere. If you have questions, please call me.

Happy reading!
